FROM THE RECTOR'S STUDY

When I look back on my life I grow in appreciation of what my parents did for me in love. They were far from rich, and extremely hard working. My mother had been in service, bringing all the skills she had learnt to the management of our simple home and its day-to-day business. Looking back, there seems little that she could not do extremely well; she could sew, cook, clean, knit and iron. The house was always spotless despite the fact that it was small, housing mother, father, two sons and grandfather. My father worked long hours as a barber in the neighbouring town. On his days off and at weekends, he grew flowers for sale at the cottage door for visitors from Liverpool. The only time I remember them not working was on Sunday evenings, when the house was open to many friends and relatives for a kind of weekly party. On these occasions there was always lots of good food, talk and laughter. No wonder, then, that I have much for which to thank my parents; they saw that their children had the best that money could buy and they were, more importantly, passionately concerned to acquire the best education for us that was available.

For many people of our kind we were dominated by the work ethic. Work was always of primary importance if we were to survive and have any quality of life. I was surrounded by people who thought the same: work was nothing to be ashamed of. Those who could were expected to pull their weight and not to avoid their responsibilities. There are still strong hints of this today. Listening to the Rugby League commentators, they praise a player from Widnes or Wigan by describing him as a hard working forward - that is praise indeed!

For the Christian there is a very special kind of work that does not demand physical strength, energetic youthfulness or intellectual power. St John in his gospel spends a great deal of time dwelling upon the importance of God's work in creating, sustaining and giving new life to His children. In response to this, Christians are expected to work at their belief in Jesus Christ. As we progress in faith, it is possible to see the good work of faith changing our lives for the better. Believing in Jesus, St John tells us, is an activity demanding effort and he describes it as 'A Work'. The spiritual activity in which we are engaged as Christians is simply yet profoundly the Godhead of Father, Son and Holy Spirit working in us and we allowing this work to happen we find ourselves working with God. Work for the Christian is an important activity, and the consequence is that we cannot rest on our laurels or take anything for granted.

When a congregation is working well together and trying to carry out the works expected by God, then the glory of the Father will be found in the Church, and lives will be changed for the better.

Every Blessing, Peter Naylor

ECTON HALL CRICKET CLUB

A mixed set of early season results. First home match against Mears Ashby on a good batting track. Ashby amassed 241-3 with G Kinnear 94 N.O. in 40 overs. Ectons reply was a creditable 200-7 with Malc Kearsley hitting 111 N.O. the first Ecton batsman for over 25 years to hit a century at Ecton.

The second match of the season against a strong Harlestone side away produced a disappointing batting display. Chasing Harlestone's 179 Ecton were 112 all out with M Kearsley once again top scoring with 31.

A bitterly cold day against Pitsford produced the seasons first win. Ecton electing to bat first at home, scored 199-5 with D Wills 65 N.O. S Richards 35 N.O., and C Ellis scoring 30.

A spirited effort from Pitsford in persistent drizzle produced 170-7 securing Ecton's first victory.

THE NEW CRICKET GROUND

We have now heard from Northants County Council that our application for a grant towards the cost of the new ground has finally been approved. It has taken a long time - nearly 3 years - to achieve, but at last we can now move ahead. Many thanks to those who supported our application - The Rector, The Headteacher and the Parish Council - as I am sure they contributed to our success. We have also agreed rental terms with the Estate and have applied for planning permission to Wellingborough Borough Council.

The hard work now begins, Steve Wheatman, our Captain, will be Clerk of Works, organising the fencing of the field, its levelling and preparation of the new square. If anyone in the Village has experience of this kind of work and can help out please give Steve a ring.

Although our grants are now in place we are still a few thousand short and will need to step up our fund raising. To this end our next event will be a Barbecue and Disco at the Three Horseshoes on 10th July - tickets £4 from the pub or Club Members - and we will be holding another Race Evening in November at Earls Barton Working Mens Club.

Finally, we hope that the new ground will become a facility for the whole Village - not just for cricket - and that, eventually, we will be able to introduce other sports such as tennis, bowls and petanque - boules, like the French play.

A ROYAL OCCASION

On Monday, 10th May Ecton House celebrated the tercentenary of its building in 1693 by Rector Thomas Palmer (at a cost of £1000) and its Silver Jubilee as the Diocesan Conference Centre and Retreat House.

A three course supper in a marquee on the lawn was followed by a thanksgiving service in the Parish Church.

It was appropriate that the principal guest was HRH the Duke of Gloucester, whose Mother The Princess Alice opened the House, as converted, on 9th May 1968. Amongst the 150 guests were both Bishops, VIP's, the Church Wardens and Parishioners. Amongst the retired and former staff were the Rev Michael Payne and Canon Trevor Willmott and their wives.

The Bishop of Peterborough preached and the Lawrence Lloyd Singers rendered an anthem as well as leading the hymns.

It was a very happy and memorable occasion and a number of Parishioners joined the service.

HRH The Duke of Gloucester and the Lord Lieutenant have written to express their deep appreciation for all who worked so hard for this event both at the House and in the Church.

ECTON HOUSE GROUP

Next meeting: Tuesday, 15th June at 7.30 p.m.

CHRISTIAN AID

On Sunday, 16th May Christian Aid week was launched throughout the Parishes with envelopes for Churches and door to door collections for this worthy appeal.

Sadly there were no envelopes available in Ecton, despite its normal generous support for charity. Clearly we need volunteers to avoid this next year and perhaps the PCC would discuss it at their next meeting

ECTON HOUSE JUBILEE PROJECT

During his speech at the Silver Jubilee celebration supper the Chairman Dennis Strange launched an appeal for £25000 for the Jubilee Project.

The House Committee wishes to relocate the lower library in a new wing and to provide a proper reception and sales area for guests. The integral garage under the Chapel will provide a larger office and the present office will become a staff room.

The appeal has already received a cheque for £10000 from the Bishop on behalf of the Church House Trustees and the Diocesan Board of Finance has pledged a further £2500 to reach the half-way stage.

Work is due to commence in July and it is hoped that all who enjoy the facilities of the House will respond to this appeal. Donations large and small will be welcomed and cheques payable to Ecton House Jubilee Appeal should be sent to the Warden as soon as possible

HOMEMADE STALL

Admission by ticket only £2 from D Austin, Tel: 415993 or

I think it appropriate to give a brief summary of the Church Receipts for the first four months of the year.

In addition to the normal collections three other items are in the programme namely the Loop System, Brass Restoration and Kneeler Fund.

The Receipts are as follows:

Collections	4859
Loop System	632
Kneelers	733
Brass Restoration	87
	£6311

£6311 is a very good start for 1993 and the Rector, Church Wardens and I would like to thank everyone for their generosity - especially in these difficult times.

Bob Allison
Treasurer

THE LOOP SYSTEM

A generous cheque for £100 has brought the appeal total to £696 but we still need your support to reach our target of £1200. Mr and Mrs Austin have kindly offered an afternoon tea party at their home, The Granary, West Street, Ecton on Thursday, 17th June.

Do please support this event.

THE REGISTER?

At a recent Synod Meeting one of the Parish Priests explained how he was desperate to find the person in his Parish who kept the Register. This was in answer to a question from the floor as to how many people actually came to Church on a Sunday. It would seem that he had about 25 on any particular Sunday although three times that number swore allegiance to the Church.

He felt that if he could only find the person who keeps the Register he would be able to fill the Church. You probably know the person he is looking for. It is the person who lets you know that you do not need to go to Church this Sunday because you went last Sunday. Also of course you do not need to go this Sunday if it is your very best intention to go next Sunday. After all worship in the Church Sunday by Sunday is not a prerequisite of being a member of the Church whereas it is a well known fact that to be, for example a Rotarian or a cricketer, it is necessary to turn up Sunday by Sunday. We are anxious to trace the person in Ecton who actually keeps our Register. If you know the person perhaps you could let the Church Wardens know. I just wonder, though, if it is you?

A VISIT TO FELIXTOWE

In expressing his thanks for the four large boxes of books and a box of jigsaw puzzles for the Mission for Seamen, Bob Hearman reminded me that he would welcome a group from Ecton to see the Mission building and to see a guided tour of the new dock facilities by minibus.

He suggests a couple of car loads of Parishioners during the Summer and awaits our response.

Please let me know if you are interested.

Dennis Strange

HELP!!!

Can anyone spare one or two hours on a Saturday. I would like to arrange a Flag Day in Northampton for the Night Shelter. I realise that this is quite a task so I would like to know if there is anyone willing to "shake a tin" at strategic points in the Town Centre.

This is a very humbling task as anyone who has ever collected knows.

Feeding the poor and giving shelter to the homeless is not an option but a command if we are to follow the way of Jesus Christ (Matthew 25 31-44).

I cannot give a date as I have to wait to see if enough people are willing to help.

Thank you in anticipation.

GOD'S PEOPLE SPEAK OUT

JOEL

(Joel 2:12-32)

We know very little about the life and times of the prophet Joel. Despite these uncertainties, his message remains clear for us today.

A WORLD OF DISASTER

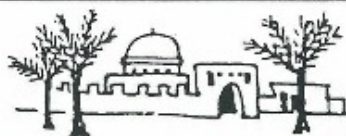

Joel spoke out at a time of natural as well as national disaster in Judah's history. The land, devastated by swarms of locusts (1:2-4) and drought (1:10), had been brought to the brink of starvation.

For Joel it was also a point of spiritual disaster in the life of the nation. Behind these events he saw the shadow of the 'Day of the Lord', when God comes in judgement (1:15). For him there was an unquestionable link between what was going on, and God's displeasure at his peoples' sin.

● What do you feel God is saying to our nation through the events of today?

A WORD OF PROMISE

Joel calls for a day of national repentance (2:15), with fasting, weeping and mourning; only this will result in a true change of heart and behaviour (2:12,13).

When the people 'return', they will know God's promise of blessing (2:21-27). He will restore 'the years the locusts have eaten' (25); for with God, nothing is lost when we return to him.

The promise of the outpouring of the Holy Spirit (2:28-32), is applied by Peter to the events of Pentecost (Acts 2:16). So today the prophetic gift is something for all believers, as we speak out to our contemporaries what God has said to us.

● What has God been saying to you recently which you need to share with others?

Remember, as Joel and Peter remind us, the Holy Spirit is always given to repentant people (cf Acts 2:38).
